

DRAFT MEMORANDUM

TO: Future Public Records Advocate

FROM: Ginger McCall, Public Records Advocate

RE: Timeline of Events Regarding Independence of Office of the Public Records Advocate

DATE: September 3, 2019

Purpose

The purpose of this memo is to give background to the future Public Records Advocate so she/he will understand the history of challenges to this office's independence and effectiveness and will be prepared to deal with similar events in the future.

This memo summarizes several significant challenges during the first Public Records Advocate's tenure. This summary includes meetings in which staff from the Governor's office attempted to pressure the Advocate into secretly representing the Governor's interests, issues related to sustainable funding for the Office, and politics which resulted in the death of proposed legislation by the PRAC.

It is the hope of the current Public Records Advocate that future Advocates, armed with the knowledge of these events, will be better prepared to be able to manage the politics inherent to this position and to zealously defend the independence of this office.

4/19/19 Email from Adam Crawford, asking for meeting regarding Advocate's 040919 meeting with DHS regarding its fiscal assessment on HB 2431. [041919 Meeting with Adam re DHS Fiscal]

4/22/19 Advocate and Deputy met with Adam Crawford at Ike Box Café. Adam stated that Advocate's 04/9/19 conversation with DHS regarding its fiscal assessment was inappropriate and that agencies were not supposed to question other agency's fiscal assessments. Advocate was instructed to not have such meetings in the future. Advocate explained that the intention was not to be combative, but to explain the bill and offer to help make it less onerous for DHS to comply [041919 Meeting with Adam re DHS Fiscal]

4/24/19 Advocate sent email to Leah Horner (DHS) acknowledging having been told that she had been too aggressive in conversations about fiscal assessment and offering to work with the agency on implementation of HB 2431. [042419 Email to Leah Horner DHS]

05/19 In a conversation with another government employee about the January meeting with Misha Isaak and Emily Matasar, that employee told the Advocate that they had heard that the reason the Governor's office was upset with the Advocate was the fact that the Advocate's report was used by others to support HB 2353.

05/09/19 Meeting with Governor Kate Brown, Misha Isaak, and Emily Matasar. Prior to this meeting, Emily Matasar had written a memo to brief the Governor which she had told me about but I had not seen. Governor Brown and staff emphasized the importance of Advocate being on the “DAS Team” and the importance of “improving communication.” Advocate asked for input on potential PRAC reform ideas, but no ideas were offered. Governor did not appear interested in the idea of reforming attorneys fees provision of the law to include a “catalyst theory.” [050919 Calendar Meeting with Governor Brown].

5/29/19 Advocate informed in casual conversation with another government employee that the proposed budget increase to add two new employees had been cut from the DAS budget. Advocate then followed up with the Office of the Public Record’s Advocate’s budget expert at DAS to ask about the budget. [052919 to Kalene Smith]. Advocate also emailed the head of DAS to plead for assistance with budget [052919 Email to Katy Coba] Advocate alerted both Kalene and Katy Coba that the lack of budget increase will leave the office with a significant shortfall due to the fact that DAS only budgeted Advocate and Deputy at Step 2 and they were both placed by HR in step 9 on their respective payscales. Both officials assure Advocate that they will look into the problem.

5/30/19 Advocate reached out to Janet Savarro (DAS) and found out that not only would there be no budget increase, but the budget would, in fact, be cut by ~50k due to DAS salary projections being fixed at Step 2. [053019 Email to Janet Savarro]

5/30/19 With Janet Savarro’s permission, Advocate reached out to Legislative Fiscal Office and Governor’s office to request reconsideration and assistance. [053019 Email to Janet Savarro; 053019 Email to Paul Siebert; 053019 Email to Emily and Misha re budget]

5/30/19 Advocate met with Emily Matasar to discuss budget situation. Emily said that she would research solutions. [053019 Calendar Meeting with Emily]

5/30/19 Advocate reached out to PRAC to inform the PRAC of the budget situation and solicit advice on how to proceed regarding the budget and HB 2431. [053019 Email to PRAC re Budget HB 2431]

6/5/19 Advocate followed up with PRAC to let the Council know that she thinks she has solved the budget issues, but that the budget should still be discussed in the July meeting.

6/6/19 Advocate met with Emily Matasar at Ike Box Café. Emily Matasar expressed displeasure at Advocate for the Advocate’s 5/30/19 email to the PRAC and ordered Advocate to add Emily Matasar to the PRAC email list and to send the PRAC an email announcing that Advocate was wrong in the 5/30/19 email about the budget. Emily Matasar reports that someone on the PRAC email list had forwarded her the Advocate’s 5/30/19 email regarding the budget and HB 2431. She tells Advocate that Advocate should not say or email things that make it look like the Advocate is “outside of” or “opposed” to the Governor’s office. Advocate once again raised the issue of independence and Emily Matasar asserted that it is the Advocate’s role to represent the Governor’s interests on the PRAC, even to the point of overruling the will of the Council. A full
